WASHINGTON CITY

Treasury Affairs.

Washington, July 16—It is understood that no formal opinion has been given by the attorney general to the secretary of the treasury concerning exchange of gold for notes from U. S. treasury Upon exchange of views upon the subject, the secretary of the treasury and attorney general agreed this could not be done till the 1st of January The treasury department has an opinion however, in favor of paying gold on government account at any time. Smaller gold coins are likely to get into circulation in this manner The coin balance still shows a steady increase and at close of business to day amounted to $12,146,000.

Overland Wires Out of Order.

YIELD OF THE BONANZAS

GLORIOUS REWARD TO GRIT AND PERSEVERANCE—$100,000,000 IN GOLD AND SILVER

[Virginia Enterprise 6th July]

On Thursday last there was a shipment of bullion from the bonanza mines which completed the mighty aggregate of $100 000 000 shipped from those mines The exact figures were, from the California $10 517 552 [illegible] and from the Consolidated Virginia $[illegible] 85—a total of $100,011,035 05 From this mine the California has paid twenty six dividends, aggregating $28 080,000, and the Consolidated Virginia has paid forty six dividends, aggregating $41,040,000, making a total of $69,140,000 There have been, since the last dividend was declared, shipments amounting to $670 655 98, which will swell the dividends $440 000 leaving the full amount of dividends $69,680 000 or within a fraction of seventy per cent of the whole gross product of the mines.

These are tremendous figures and are altogether unprecedented in mining Turn them about, or analyze them in any way and the result is magnificent The yield is equal to one-sixteenth of the interest bearing portion of the national debt, it is equal to the value of all property of all kinds in an average city of 125 000 inhabitants, it is more than the value of all the real and personal property of this state, and the comparisons might be extended indefinitely.

This amount has been taken from a little spot of ground less than 800 feet in length and from 60 to 800 feet in width And the stupendous deposit is still yielding princely sums. As one looks upon the figures he finds himself wondering why there are any poor in this world, and why, so long as gold and silver will purchase any luxury and all imaginable service, there are so many in pecuniary distress. The thought is cured however, by reflecting that in all the mining of the world no other such success was ever won before.

For five years—from 1867 to 1872—a company worked the ground all the time expending $[illegible] upon the property without receiving one cent in return At last it was forced to give way, and on the 11th of January, 1872, the property fell to the present management. These men expended $27[illegible] 150 upon the property before realizing one dollar from it. It was a stubborn fight against the rock and the barren porphyry—a steady pouring out of gold on a hope, which continued altogether eight years, and which would have been abandoned in any other country but this, and by any other men in the world than Nevada miners Call it judgment, foresight, faith, pluck or what you will it is a faculty, or rather a combination of faculties which exists nowhere else on earth. The old stock (only 108 000 shares in each mine) was worth but two dollars per share, and those who per force accepted it for services rendered bewailed their hard fortune Since then it has made them richer than they ever dreamed of being, and their word is held in great estimation, because of their shrewd sense in purchasing bonanza stocks when they were low.

It was in a drift which was run from the Gould and Curry shaft through the Best and Belcher mine into the Consolidated Virginia, that the roof of the bonanza was cut, explorations followed, and the more that was done the more ore was exposed, until at length, in the autumn of 1874, it was fully revealed that an ore deposit had been discovered that exceeded in extent and richness anything ever found in any mine.

On October 18, 1873, the first shipment of [illegible] from the Consolidated Virginia was made. That was three months less than five years ago, and now the product, as we have shown, has exceeded $100,000 000, almost three-tenths of which have been in profits. Of the whole amount about forty five per cent has been gold and fifty-five per cent silver.

[illegible] of Mrs. Jenks.

[Washington Dispatch to Cincinnati Enquirer, (Dem).]

Mrs. Jenks behavior on the witness stand was charming "In appearance she is rather prepossessing. She has an oval face rather with features of a German cast full lips, small mouth, clear cut features—not handsome, but pretty In stature she is below the medium height, with a good figure. Her hair is a cross between an auburn and brown Her eyes clear brown and large. On her head she wore a turban hat, which detracted from rather than added to her general appearance, because it was not becoming. Her dress was of linen embroidered with lace, not at all gaudy nor in the least showy. She exposed a handsome foot, clad in a small sized slipper Her arm, which was exposed by reason of the flowing sleeve, would create the sin of covetousness in any sister not blessed with one so shapely. She speaks with a slight French accent, just enough to make it interesting and give it flavor, although every sentence which fell from her lips was intelligible and easily understood Her answers were direct and emphatic. When cornered she did not blush, but beat out of the intricate places by her ready wit and extraordinary repartee. In the witness chair she was as cool as Lucifer Nothing seemed to daze her. Even when trapped in her own inconsistencies she had such infinite resources of her own that all she had to do was to draw from her hidden fount and elude the rigid cross-questions aimed at her, Paddy like, answering a question by asking another She showed herself to be a woman of liberal education Every sentence was purely grammatical and some of her epigrammatic thrusts were gems "Ain't she a hell of a woman?" said Butler to Chairman Morrison. Ben sized her about right.

The New York Graphic has entered extensively into the business of president making. It is betting on Gen Grant's being the next candidate of the Republicans on Thurman receiving the nomination of the Democracy, and Butler being the candidate of the growing third party.

When the neighbors arrived who were attracted by the noise made by the quarrel and the screaming children who ran into the street they found him muttering in drunken rage at a table and the wife lying on the bedroom floor whither she had staggered mortally wounded He was arrested and charged with an assault to murder the woman She lingered until 1 40 this morning, when she died from the stabs To day a charge of murder was entered against Lynch He claims to know nothing of the occurrence except that he was stupidly drunk at the time

LITERARY NOTES

Dr Stephen Smith's "Operative Surgery" covering the entire field of that difficult science in its principles and practice is in the press of Houghton, Osgood & Co

Richard Simpson's new book "The School of Shakespeare," gives reprints of many single plays contemporary with Shakespeare and not found in other collections.

Mr Thomas F Ravenshaw has just published "Ancient Epitaphs from A D 1250 to A D 1800" This conspicuous collection shows that there is nearly as much fun as solemnity in epitaphs

Herr Theo Poesche, a citizen of Washington D C has written what the Saturday Review calls an able interesting and rather powerful volume on the Aryan race The book is printed at Jena

The Twickenham villa of the poet Alexander Pope was offered for sale recently in London, and the grounds five acres extent with the cedars and other timber and the celebrated grotto the poet formed were bought in at £14 000 The bona fide buildings went to only £9 100

On the vexed question of "Protection vs Free Trade Dr St von Skarzynski has published a notable book severely reviewing Adam Smith's claims as the creator of political economy and advocating the doctrine of protection with much zeal The book is so heretical as to have been rejected by the university of Breslau

There were 14 00[illegible] separate works published in Germany in 18[illegible] written by 10 0[illegible] known authors, many being anonymous In classifying these it is found that [illegible] to law and politics [illegible] to history [illegible] to agriculture [illegible] engineering &c [illegible] 311 to geography and [illegible] to medical philosophy

France has paid the Swedish government $60 000 for the island of St Bartholomew West Indies If this purchase may be considered as fixing the price of island property in the West Indies Cuba would prove a very dear bargain The island of St Bartholomew contains only 35 square miles of territory while Cuba contains 47 1[illegible]0 The price at that rate is a problem for the school boys The population of St Bartholomew is near 20 000

The Republicans of Ohio acknowledge that the third party will weaken their side more than that of the Democrats

The Times says Lord Beaconsfield will be welcomed to day as the chief actor in one of the most [illegible] triumphs in modern diplomacy of England To the fame of distinguished English statesman he has added that of a [illegible] ter and it would be hard to say what greater distinction can remain for him

More of a Brilliant Scene

Carriages of the nobility are constantly arriving from the direction of Pall Mall and each are received with cheers from the crowd At this hour the reserved seats in the station are filled The ladies are in gala costumes and the scene is very brilliant

Cheers and Bouquets.

ATLANTIC CABLE

German Politics.

The canvassing in Germany for elections for members of the reichstag to take place on the 30th, is quite heated The struggle will be severe especially in large towns where daily meetings are held It seems improbable that Bismarck will be strong enough in the new parliament to dispense with assistance of the National Liberals on whom he has heretofore been dependent

What Conkling's Programme Was.

Washington special July [illegible]

At the time of Howe's attack in the senate upon the administration it was stated generally that Howe's speech was the result of a conference of several Republican senators and would be followed by other speeches of a similar if not severer character That statement from the start [illegible] of that time was [illegible] conference and Howe's speech was put forth as a feeler but the scheme failed It can now be stated upon the best authority that a programme was fully made and it was expected that Stanley Matthews would reply to Howe Some points of Howe's speech were aimed at Matthews, and the conspirators had not the slightest doubt that he would reply As it was however neither Matthews nor any one else said a single word in reply and Howe's speech fell flat, and was soon forgotten Had Matthews replied to Howe it was Conkling's intention to speak next On the same trustworthy authority it can be stated that Conkling at that time had full knowledge of the Anderson letters and in some instances he had copies He had also Boudes Baker's telegrams and his intention was to make a bold and sweeping charge of corruption and bargaining and to charge Matthews and southern Democrats openly in the senate with improper acts Conkling is said to have been longing for this fray and felt quite disappointed when the opportunity he coveted failed The above is given by those who know Conkling as the reason why he never made his open attack upon the administration about which so much has been said

Supply and Price of Petroleum

[From the Philadelphia Record]

Petroleum has gradually sunk in price until the crude oil can now be obtained at the point of production for less than $1 per barrel Transactions were made July 3d for 90¾ cents per barrel to the extent of over 100 000 barrels At this price there is no profit for producers The great majority of them lose money because the average cost of oil is probably not less than $2 per barrel The Titusville Herald, in a review of the present deplorable situation says the first six months of the present year has been an eventful period in the history of the oil trade The production was lowest in the month of January, and from about 39 000 barrels at that time it has steadily increased to over 40 000 barrels during the past month The entire shipments from the region were 5,215 863 barrels or less than 30 000 barrels per day thus causing an accumulation of about 1 820 000 barrels to the visible supply above ground in iron tanks, and swelling the stocks to about 5 300 000 barrels The cause of this excessive production has been almost entirely due to the development of the northern oil field, which has increased to about 18 000 barrels per day

Eastern papers are making a good deal of fun of Speaker Randall's tariff straddle from New York to Philadelphia In his [illegible] that the latter stronghold of the protective system he expressed himself thus emphatically

I always set down a man who talks to me of free trade being either [illegible] or a deceiver

[illegible] over to New York the commercial center of free trade operations in the east he says

Individual enterprises must be left free to carry out their destiny without the aid of government. [illegible] New York should see to it that congress shall not shackle the industry of the laborer by laws for the special benefit of a favored few

This may be the way to be president but it will endanger the seat in congress which is Mr Randall's immediate point of attack

The Springfield Republican says that the congressional campaign will be one of men and not of issues

A JOLLY JAUNT

[illegible] WONDERS OF [illegible] BOYS AND MOUNTAIN MAIDENS

Williams Creek, [illegible] County July 12, 1878

To the Editor of the Oregonian

In this naturally tranquil part of the state where no baneful Bannacks naughty Nez Perces pesky Piutes sinuous Snakes or ugly Umatillas can annoy or make us afraid the favorite summer habit as well as privilege of well ordered Oregonians is already asserting itself with more than its accustomed frequency and this too notwithstanding the as yet cool temperature of the valleys The habit referred to of course is that of flitting to the mountains on the [illegible] wings of love at least for the love of Oregon scenery The excursion of which I send you an abbreviated description was planned primarily for the purpose of again visiting Elijah's Cave and then such other portions of the towering Siskiyous as our commissary supply and united inclination would warrant The expedition was made up mainly of young people, all of whose names I would gladly give were it not for the fear of trespassing upon your space All told we were twice seven and two over, and combined just the sort of diversities of human nature as are perhaps best calculated to make such jaunts an uninterrupted source of romance and pleasure

We left Mr McGee's place on the morning of July 8 1878 and reached the cave the evening of the same day The distance is about ten miles—made up of about an equal amount of very abrupt ascending and descending, and considering the obstacles encountered it forms a very good test of the mountaineering ability of lady tourists The locality of the cave as previously stated in The Oregonian is a spur of Grayback mountain at the head of Sucker creek Such [illegible] were made last summer were also published that I need not recapitulate them They constitute in themselves an attraction seldom surpassed in interest but when taken in connection with new discoveries made by our party we can honestly claim for Josephine county one of the rare wonders of the world

Our party of sixteen made an early commencement next day after our arrival We squeezed through some very narrow passages clambered over immense heaps of fallen lime [illegible] where it was necessary stooping low enough in each of the principal apartments for the members of our party to exhaust their store of beauty expressing epithets, and then the more dangerous work of exploring the upper chamber was begun Great damage to clothing and manifest risks were here unavoidable and only a portion of the crowd made the venture among them two of the young ladies—Miss Hannah M Gee and Miss Mary E Layton The work of investigation was here prosecuted until we were almost exhausted physically and had become weary with beholding the fantastic beauties of God's own handiwork brought out in the laboratory of nature through the lapse of ages And the work still goes on

Apparently there was first worn out by the action of the water an immense cavern or work shop—how extensive, can only be guessed at and, all the time excavation was going on the work of decoration through the agency of lime water must have been kept up, then, through a sudden convulsion or perhaps many convulsions of Nature the dome or ceiling has fallen in and filled up the cavity with loose rock and segments of the mountain But there has been no abatement in the work of decoration and likely never will be so long as earth shall last Millions upon millions of tons of glittering and fantastic stalactites have here been buried neath the descending lime stone gravel and sediment have been washed in to mix with other debris while the calcareous matter held in solution by the water as it percolates through from above and solidifies, performs the two fold office of beautifying the sides ceiling and floors of the different chambers, at the same time cementing the mass together It is in this way that we may account for so many thousands of apartments and apertures of different sizes shapes and angles many of them penetrable but for the larger number impossible of access To sum it all up briefly the whole spur of the mountain seems honey combed with recesses niches and beautiful grottos It was by a mere accident that we hit upon an entrance to the by far prettiest series of apartments yet discovered

Some members of our party while out on the mountain side discovered indications of other entrances Mr Hathaway and the undersigned concluded to test their accessibility We tried two of the openings without any satisfactory results At length we found a small opening between the rocks barely large enough for one person to squeeze himself down in a perpendicular direction Once through this aperture however and a glorious reward was ours We found an easy passage to a suite of rooms that actually beggar description—as much superior to previous discoveries as they are to an ordinary bed rock tunnel and equally rich in stalactite and stalagmite formations And the end is not yet Parties have taken up the cave and will proceed shortly to enlarge the openings and improve the facilities for reaching it, at the same time endeavoring to preserve its magnificence from ruthless desecration and for the benefit of future visitors

This communication is much too long already to admit of further details and it would require one equally lengthy to describe the mountain scenery we subsequently beheld during the expedition WM. W F

What a Niggardly Policy Does.

[From the Boise Statesman]

Had Fort Boise been provided with an adequate military force—even three companies of cavalry—as was so often shown to be necessary the present Indian war would have been crushed in the bud The band of hostile Bannacks, who formed the nucleus of the war would have been intercepted before crossing Snake river, and compelled to surrender or retire by the route they had started upon But as it was, the only effective force was Col Bernard's single company of cavalry which could not be divided and could only march in one direction This company achieved all that it was possible for any one company to do Had there been even another as good and as well officered the hostile Bannacks would never have been able to swing around the circle and gather allies as they did This is twice the country has suffered immensely and the government has been subjected to the enormous cost of carrying on an Indian war from the neglect to properly garrison this important post

This is Just the Truth.

[From the Seattle Dispatch]

The campaign which Gen Howard successfully prosecuted against the Nez Perces would have entitled him to fame if carried on in any other than an Indian war The unceasing and unreasonable censure of which he is constantly the object is as cruel as it is unjust

Looking Over a Precipice

[From the N Y Sun]

We stand nearer the precipice than is commonly believed Hayes a weak vacillating, common place man was made president by fraud and by a trade and who shall say there is no danger of the hero and despot Grant mounting into Hayes' place and remaining there for life?

Democratic Prediction of Grant

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem)]

The fight between the Grant organs and the Bristow sheets is getting hot The nomination of Grant by the Republicans is a foregone conclusion

On motion of Mr Odell the article was laid on the table and ordered printed

Mr Dennison from committee No 1 reported the article entitled

the first section of which provides that all existing charters grants of exclusive privileges under which the corporators or grantees shall not have organized and commenced business in good faith at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall thereafter have no validity

Section 3 of the article provides that all railroads in the state shall be deemed public highways free to all persons under such regulations as may be prescribed by law and laws shall be passed establishing reasonable maximum rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freights thereon and to prevent unjust discrimination No railroad corporations shall consolidate its stock property or franchises with any parallel or competing line No railroad or other transportation company in existence at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall have the benefit of any future legislation without first filing in the office of secretary of state an acceptance of this constitution

Section 9 provides against corporations watering their capital or stock

On motion of Mr Larrabee the article was laid on the table and ordered printed

The legislative article was considered by the convention and amended by striking out the clause providing for an election in 1879

Mr E[illegible] offered an amendment relative to minority representation in the legislature which was adopted as follows The legislature may at any time after the year 1890 adopt the system known as the preferential system, in the election of representatives and enact such laws as will be necessary to carry it into effect. The article was further amended by a provision that no special or local law shall be passed for the protection of game or shell fish

Mr Gilmore proposed an amendment that after the year 1890 the legislature may provide for quadrennial sessions. The motion to amend was lost, the vote standing as follows

Ayes—Messrs Dennison Gilmore Macy and Mr President—4

Noes—Messrs Andrews Bradshaw, Eldridge Emery George Henry Hannah Larrabee Odell Steward and Wait—11

Twentieth Day

Mr Dennison, from committee No 1 reported the article entitled

JUDICIARY

Which among other things provides that for the term of four years and thereafter until the legislature shall otherwise provide the judges of the several circuit courts shall be ex officio judges of the supreme court a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum

The state is divided into three judicial circuits, to be composed as follows The first circuit shall comprise all that portion of the state lying east of the Cascade mountains, except Klickitat county The second and third circuits embrace the same counties now included in the second and third judicial districts respectively

At the afternoon session the convention in committee of the whole adopted as an amendment to the article on officers the following

"No person being a member of congress or holding a commission to any civil or military office under the United States except postmasters of the fourth class shall be eligible to any office under this state and if any person shall after his election to any office be appointed to any office civil or military under the government of the United States or of any state or territory, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his office

The twenty first day was occupied in consideration of the judiciary article in committee of the whole On the [illegible]

Twenty-second Day

The article entitled Declaration of Rights was again considered in convention, and amended so that three fourths instead of two thirds of a trial jury shall concur in a verdict in civil cases. The legislature may abolish the grand jury system

A substitute for section 12, relative to imprisonment for debt, was inserted as follows

"No person shall be imprisoned for debt except in case of fraud in contracting the debt or of absconding debtors having means legally applicable to the payment of such debt or some part thereof

Section 26, of the original article providing that religious corporations, associations or churches shall not take by devise or bequest, more than one fourth part of the estate of any decedent was stricken out altogether

Twenty-third Day.

The day was consumed in consideration of the Declaration of Rights and the judiciary article

Mr Dennison moved the adoption of the following new section to the Declaration of Rights

The right to hold any of the following offices in this state shall not be denied to any person on account of sex anything in this constitution to the contrary notwithstanding that is to say

Office of notary public
Office of commissioner of deeds
Office of county clerk
Office of treasurer of any county city town or district
Office of clerk in the legislative judicial or executive department
Office in any institution of learning, or institution for insane, deaf or dumb persons
Office of superintendent of public instruction
Office of county school superintendent school director or school district clerk.

Mr Larrabee moved to strike out judicial offices The motion was carried standing as follows

Ayes—Messrs Andrews Bradshaw Emery Hannah Larrabee Lacy, O Dell and Mr President—8

Noes—Messrs Dennison Eldridge, Gilmore George, Steward and Wait—6

Absent—Mr Henry (sick in bed)—1

Two ineffectual attempts were made to strike out other offices after which the vote on the adoption of the new section was taken resulting in its rejection by a tie vote as follows

Ayes—Messrs Dennison Eldridge, Gilmore George Steward Wait and Mr President—7

Noes—Messrs Andrews Bradshaw, Emery Hannah Larrabee, Lacy and O Dell—7

Absent—Mr Henry—1

The following substitute for section 4 of the Declaration of Rights was adopted

"All persons have a natural and indefeasible right to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience No person shall be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship against his consent and no preference shall be given by law to any religious society nor shall any interference with the right of conscience be permitted No religious test shall be required as a qualification for office nor shall any person be incompetent to be a witness on account of his opinions on matters of religion but nothing herein shall be construed to dispense with oaths or affirmations but the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be so construed as to excuse acts of licentiousness, or practices inconsistent with the peace or safety of the state

Resuming consideration of the judiciary article the convention struck out the county court feature it injected the day previous leaving the article as it stood when first introduced

Twenty-fourth Day

The legislative article was ordered engrossed for a third reading

An attempt was made by Mr George of Walla Walla to amend the judiciary article by striking out the clause to wit "Remedies at law must be administered separately from those in equity

Similar amendments had before provoked considerable discussion On this one the ayes and noes were called as follows

Ayes Messrs Dennison George Henry and Hannah—4

Noes—Messrs Andrews Bradshaw Eldridge Gilmore Larrabee Odell Steward Wait and Mr President—9

Mr Lacy who would have voted aye was paired with the absent member Mr Emery who if present would have voted no

The article entitled finance was taken up and considered in committee of the whole Mr Andrews in the chair Mr Abernethy offered the following amendment

"Church buildings and the ground on which they stand when used exclusively for public worship or other religious purposes to the amount of three thousand dollars each shall be exempt from taxation

The vote on this amendment was taken by acclamation but was a decided negative There being not more than four members of the convention voting in its favor The idea prevails that all church property should be placed on the same level with other private property

The following amendment was made to section [illegible] of the article on finances "And no set off of debts against property assessments shall be allowed

The following clause was stricken from the article "And household property not exceeding $200 in value shall be exempt from taxation Thus leaving the article to stand with no private exemptions whatever

The following new section was adopted "The state shall never contract any debt for works of internal improvement or be a party in carrying on the same

The frame work of the constitution is nearly finished the details will be concluded and the instrument enrolled on parchment ready for signing on or about the 20th instant The weather has been very hot and convention work very laborious on that account. The Puget Sound members are getting impatient and long for the salt air and their regular clam diet.

The Great Race at Louisville.

[Louisville Dispatch July 10]

John Conley manager of the race on the Fourth is still confined to his room by illness The excitement over the event is fast dying out and as it does people begin to see affairs in the light they should Conley, on being questioned concerning the stakes said

Of course the stakes were up The statement made by Cincinnati papers that they were not is the silliest falsehood published about the race Alexander McAfee of California put up the money on Ten Broeck and a check for it has been sent him It was deposited in the Bank of California at San Francisco and a check for its payment was signed by T P Harper on the 5th and forwarded A copy of the check has already been published The truth is if the race had been an entire success instead of being abused as I am being I would have been regarded as a great hero

Reporter—When was Mollie McCarthy sold?

Conley—The sale was closed about 4 o'clock Saturday

Reporter—Why did Winters sell her?

Conley—He thought her injured by the race for one thing He would not breed her till next spring, and did not desire to keep her over idle nor did he want to run her even if she was able Doble asked Winters to name a price for her He did so and Doble immediately accepted it

Reporter—What was the price?

Conley—That was private the parties agreeing not to mention it

The reporter was afterward told by a gentleman who saw the papers that the price paid was $8 000

Reporter—What will Doble do with Mollie?

Conley—He has taken her away for recuperation and will take her to Baltimore and other places east and run her this fall I tell you, as my judgment that she will establish a great fame as the best two, three and four mile racer in the country

The Lemhi Bannacks.

[From the New Northwest, Deer Lodge.]

Six weeks ago, Granville Stuart, Esq, met Ten Doy on the Salmon river He had known Mr Stuart for twenty years, and told him his trouble. He said, "My women and children and people are starving We wanted to go and hunt and could have provided for ourselves. But the soldiers compelled us to return to this agency and remain We only get a little flour and bacon, and occasionally a piece of beef not enough to keep our people from starvation—and yet we must stay I have always been friendly to the whites I have lived among them nearly all my life I will not fight them nor will my people while I live. But I am not sure that my life is safe Others of the old men confirmed this They said owing to the traps put in the river below they could catch no fish, not as many as twenty having been caught the entire season Mr Stuart and party also saw numbers of the Indian families go to Salmon City and buy flour giving their scant supply of skins and money for this absolute essential of existence while the government had guaranteed a sufficiency by the treaty, and by compelling them to remain there Mr Stuart says they did not talk of revolt, but that the situation as he saw it was sufficient to awaken for them the most earnest sympathy of any humane person and it would be wondered at how such things could be endured Hayes as a Public Speaker.

[From the Philadelphia Times]

There have been presidents before Hayes who were not orators but they have had the good sense to keep their mouths shut and General Grant sometimes went to the other extreme of scarcely bowing an acknowledgment of courtesies Mr Hayes offends by the tameness and sameness of his remarks Glance at those Wyoming speeches for illustration. He begins with the inevitable and inexcusable apology. Then we are entertained with a string of such common places as "You are here to commemorate an important event in history, this anniversary differs from all other centennial anniversaries we live a hundred years after the Revolution, we are in the midst of a number of centennial anniversaries Pennsylvania has had a large share in these centennial anniversaries these centennial anniversaries have been attended by multitudes, this centennial anniversary is peculiar, it is a pioneer celebration every country has its pioneers, the virtues and hardihood of Wyoming are the virtues that we celebrate. Almost anything is better than his endless repetition of commonplaces If he cannot make a speech let him declaim, or pray, or take up a collection

An Indiana paper says that the president of one of the roads of that state telegraphed to the superintendent, asking him if he did not as business was dull think the boys would stand another five or ten per cent. cut The latter answered "When you made the last cut I discharged most of the single men and the married men were obliged to drown one child each Should you make another cut, I don't know what they would do"

The women of the country having saved Mt Vernon for posterity, propose to raise $[illegible]0 000 and as much more as possible to perpetuate the memory of Valley Forge by purchasing the old stone mansion on the Schuylkill, where Gen Washington had his head quarters during those trying months, and fitting it up with colonial and revolutionary relics

The following is received from Gen Wheaton under date of the 15th inst

I had expected to attack them early to-morrow morning when Sanford would be in the vicinity of Meacham's I send Forsyth with a cavalry column in quick pursuit and follow him with Miles column McBean, Umatilla interpreter, with Umatilla scouts accompanies the troops Forty six Umatilla scouts are now fighting the Bannack raiding parties and Snake Chief Egan is reported to be killed. THE WAY TO BUILD THE ROAD.

Portland July 16, 1878.

To the Editor of the Oregonian

Perhaps I did not make my idea explicit enough, for you certainly misapprehend me. If the state builds the road at the portages of the Columbia, (as it ought, it having made free the portage of the Willamette) the plan I suggest is for the state to levy a special railroad tax for that purpose for two years, and that by the provisions of the law by which the tax is levied and the road is to be built, work shall be commenced and prosecuted only after the money is in the treasury for that purpose and only to the extent for which such money is sufficient. For instance, suppose this next legislature (as it ought) should pass such a law, then after the first year's tax shall have been collected the state could grade the road and build its depots and after the second year's tax was collected the rails could be bought and the road completed. It would be a libel on the framers of our state constitution to presume that they incorporated section 7 article 11 in our organic law for the purpose of preventing necessary works of internal improvement It was only put there to make us pay as we go and that is the plan I intended to suggest That it is the imperative duty of the state to provide the means by which the commerce of its people, upon the great natural channels of commerce shall be made free from any tax levied by private parties holding the portages of such channels is a proposition that no man in all Oregon will dispute As to how this shall be best effected we may differ I suggested a plan which seemed best to my judgment If it be faulty, or if another and better plan can be devised, I hope the fault may be shown and the better plan adopted.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JULY 17 1878

NEWS FROM GRAND RONDE AGENCY

Following is a verbatim copy of a letter posted on a bulletin board in this city

GRAND RONDE July 13 1878

My Indians is attending to there daily work as usual they dont simpatize with these Eastern Oregon they are willing to form a company and assist the whites and the goverment which is very Commendabile for my Indians under my charge here on Reservation 900

P B SINNOTT
U S Agent

The forbearance of the Grand Ronde Indians under this infliction is certainly remarkable. Pages or even volumes could not present a more striking commentary on our Indian system and service than is furnished by this original and unique writing Where very high and important interests are entrusted to ignorance and incompetency there is always danger

If the Indian service is to be continued as a gift enterprise for the church organizations of the country the several denominations should at least be required to furnish men of experience and culture as well as honesty for the positions to be filled A piece of writing like the above is a disgrace both to an official and to the service. No argument could convince anybody of the fitness of the writer for so important a trust He may be entirely honest and among the most well meaning of men but in this note there is manifest a total want of qualification for the place. The Indians of this reservation are happily protected against temptation to out break by the seclusion of their position and in consequence continue quiet and peaceful but this good fortune is not common to all reservations, and where weak agents are in charge the Indians cannot be kept under control

Sometimes dishonesty on the part of an agent takes the place of imbecility, and then even worse consequences follow It is now well established that at one of the Bannack reservations in Idaho the man who was placed in charge as agent more because of his membership in the denomination to which the agency was assigned than as a fit representative of the government, managed his trust scandalously, and much of the discontent which inflamed the present out break was directly produced by the agent's malversations.

We are not insisting, nor would we intimate for a moment, that persons who may be members of the religious denominations are not or may not be proper persons for this or any other department of the public service. But it is a great error, and would be hugely ridiculous were it not too grave a subject for any manner of levity, to select public servants mainly with a view to such membership On peculiarity of hair or stature a better rule as to qualifications of appointees might be established and with less trouble

Fortunately the Indians at Grand Ronde are entirely harmless Many are decrepid or imbecile, and there are no discontented, resolute and active young men among them who could give any trouble It was not necessary for the agent to sound his own praises by assuring the public that "my Indians under my charge is all quiet." Perhaps it would be worth inquiry to learn how the agent counts them so as to make their number nine hundred. This is a much larger number than heretofore officially returned for that reservation. But we make allowance for a vivid imagination A fervid mind, producing such a composition as that above printed, would naturally run into some exaggeration.

NECESSARY PRECAUTION

It is apparent that the hostile Bannacks, Snakes and Piutes, in making so long a march into Oregon, had for their main purpose a visit to the Columbia river Indians They were on a search for allies, and beyond doubt had much hope of finding them It is not likely they expected any great amount of help from the Umatilla Indians, but supposed they might induce stragglers everywhere to join them, especially if they could get across the Columbia river, where they would find many Indians who do not acknowledge the authority of the government and stoutly refuse all solicitation to go upon reservations But though prevented from crossing the Columbia, they still linger in the vicinity hoping for some advantage by keeping in communication with the Indians of the surrounding country. Some of the Umatillas Gen Wheaton says, are fighting against the intruders That any have actually joined them there is no positive information But it is certain that the presence of the friendly Indians renders the situation much more embarrassing than it otherwise would be Stringent measures should be taken to bring all our own Indians in and keep them close, except such as may be employed as scouts for the war If there is any well grounded reason to believe that any of them are disposed to carry information or lend assistance in any way to the hostile band they ought all to be disarmed and taken in charge at once, and further, their horses ought to be put under guard. Unless the disturbance be brought to a speedy end this course will be a wise and almost necessary precaution. There is great danger that the war party may secretly receive new supplies of ammunition through Indians who profess to be friendly to the whites or information as to movements of troops, which would thwart all efforts to chastise them and this can be surely prevented only by keeping under surveillance all Indians who claim to be of friendly character

If the hostile Indians are not speedily dispersed and driven from the vicinity of their late depredations the most thorough measures will immediately become necessary, and will be taken without hesitation Then every Indian not on his reservation will be regarded as hostile and dealt with accordingly Under such circumstances if friendly Indians are roving about some of them are almost certain to be killed and when that happens it will be a provocation to his fellows to take up arms. In employing every precaution to prevent injustice or violence to any Indian who may be friendly we are not only doing a thing right in itself, but a thing absolutely necessary to keep hostilities within present limits. A most essential part of our present policy is to keep all Indians who belong in our own country in as close seclusion as possible The hostile force unquestionably has had no other object in coming to their and staying about the vicinity than that of engaging them in the war They may not be able to coax them into it but if they could embroil them in the affair by any kind of strategy the effect would be the same

—A midnight dispatch from La Grande says Boise City gives a good account of the work of a war party of Umatillas If this report be true it would seem that these Indians are doing rather better work than our soldiers The Columbia river line was down all day yesterday between here and the Dalles and no report could be received that way

According to official returns made in 1876 the latest we have at hand the number of Indians at Umatilla reservation was 832 Of these a considerable majority were females At Warm Springs agency the whole number was just 500 Those roaming on Columbia river were estimated at that time at 2 000 The Colville agency returned [illegible] and the Yakima agency 4 10 Add [illegible] 800 the number returned for the Nez Perces at Lapwai an estimate of 1 000 for Indians in North Idaho not under an agent and [illegible] for the Piutes and Snakes belonging to Malheur and we have a total of 10 8 0 Indians in Eastern Oregon and Washington and Northern Idaho Of course no possible confederation could include more than a small fraction of these and yet so large a number suggests the possibility that a good many malcontents and renegades may be recruited in that large country for service with those now in arms Evidently the latter expect it Otherwise they would not have come to the vicinity of the Columbia river

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company is gradually securing strength and credit Its net profits for a year past have been from $50 000 to $60 000 a month Business over its finished line is rapidly increasing Had not renewal of its charter been defeated through the laborious six months efforts of a senator from Oregon, it would now be building road and rapidly abridging the distance between Portland and Chicago Sales of land in Minnesota and Dakota continue at enormous rate and the rapid settlement of the country along the completed line assures great increase of business and a rapidly growing surplus to be applied to construction There is no debt upon the road and all its resources will be applicable to the work of extension Had the land grant only been renewed all would have been well Let it be observed once more that this is the enterprise which was postponed to a scheme of personal politics, part of which was the magnificent project known as the Columbus River and Salt Lick Railroad

The New York Tribune has a caustic article on a new method of swindling which it characterizes as the sale of daubs It shows how the extensive manufacture of cheap paintings in the city of New York and the sale of these daubs as works of art all over the country is both an outrage on the public and an injury to legitimate trade Descriptions are given of the buckeye manufactories in which pictures are made by thousands with the aid of stencil plates and house-painters brushes. It is not surprising that these pictures should obtain ready sale among people who are ignorant of art matters, but the art education of the people must in time prevent the success of such swindles Exposures like that made by the Tribune will go far toward educating picture-buyers and putting all people on their guard

A clause in the general appropriation bill as passed by congress authorizes the assay offices of Helena and Boise City to issue coin certificates in exchange for deposits of gold and silver bullion The importance of this piece of legislation for the mining industries of Montana and Idaho will be very considerable Producers of gold and silver will receive at once the value of their bullion bars without the delays and tolls to which they have heretofore been subjected The coin certificates can be readily converted into currency at the banks, and will supply the bulk of exchange for the territories Government takes upon itself the expense of shipping bullion thus acquired.

The defence made by Gen Porter so far is based on the theory that had he attacked as Gen Pope directed there would have been an unpleasant amount of fighting In this the confederate officers who have been called by Porter as witnesses agree with him But that fighting was the very thing that Pope wanted in order to relieve the pressure on the columns under his own immediate direction All the testimony in the world before a military board will not change the universal opinion that the McClellan clique, conspicuous among whom was Porter, wanted Pope to get a good beating in order that McClellan might be called back to the command

The ministerial party in England professes to think that by the occupation of Cyprus an advantage has been obtained which outweighs the gains made by Russia through war and diplomacy combined. But it it appears that Russia cares nothing about England's occupation of Cyprus, and made no objection to it Gortschakoff told Beaconsfield that Russia saw nothing of an objectionable nature in the convention between England and Turkey, as she entertained no projects of aggrandizement on the coast of Turkey in Asia, and perceived no difference between England's occupation of Cyprus and her occupation of Malta

In a long article the Salt Lake Tribune maintains that Mormonism is "a decaying faith" At the recent quarterly conference there was a slim attendance of the brethren and the apostles vigorously berated absentees The Tribune says the more sensible of those hitherto duped do not raise a fuss and denounce these scolding priests as impostors, they simply mind their own business and stay away from the public assemblies This is a very mild form of protest, but it evidently creates alarm

The sheriff of Deadwood recently arrested the Rev L P Narcross, of the Congregational church, for denouncing the lawlessness of that town in the pulpit, and was hurrying the preacher through the streets to jail, when citizens interfered and procured his release Then the gamblers, shooters and cutpurses quietly resumed business

CITY.

FATAL ACCIDENT—C C Howard a logger while employed last Friday at a logging camp situated about four miles from Freeport, Cowlitz county Washington territory met with an accident from the effects of which he subsequently died. He and several others were employed in rolling sawlogs down a steep hill into the river Four logs had rolled about half way down the hill and lodged. A fifth log was started from the brow of the hill and came down with great force and celerity, and striking the other four started them also Howard was working below, and on looking up observed the five logs coming down The logs were rolling in different directions and Howard found it impossible to escape them, notwithstanding he made every effort One of the logs struck him and threw him violently against a piece of timber, injuring him fatally in the small of the back Dr W H Saylor of this city was summoned who lost no time in repairing to the bedside of the sufferer The accident occurred Friday about 11 A M and after lingering along in great pain until Sunday, Howard passed away from the scenes of earth. His injuries were of an internal nature, and were beyond the reach of medical skill. Deceased leaves a wife and large family.

THE NOTORIOUS DOWD.—The San Francisco Chronicle of the 11th gives the notorious Jack Dowd (who does not require any introduction to the people of this community) the following "benefit" "Charles Marion, alias Rattler Charley, was arrested by officer Dan Coffey yesterday for complicity in the attempt to swindle P. A. French out of a lot of bullion. He is one of the members of a gang of bunko thieves whose headquarters are at the Paris house. Jack Dowd another of the gang who has also been arrested on the same charge, says that nearly all the members of the gang have been arrested during the past week on various charges, principally vagrancy. He says that this has been caused at the instance of another gang of the same ilk having headquarters at No 1 Morton street, for the purpose of driving him and his fellows away from a business that is worth from $100 to $250 a day He further said he could prove that an officer was in the receipt of a regular salary from the other gang to act as a mediator between the sharpers and their victims."

INCENDIARISM—LOSS—INSURANCE.— There can be no doubt but that the destruction of the residence of Mr Henry Weber, which is situated on Marquam's gulch, a very short distance east of the Fourth street railroad bridge, was the work of an incendiary Mr and Mrs Weber left their home several days ago and went out into the country on a short visit. During that time the house was entirely unoccupied, and could not have caught fire. Nothing of any value was rescued from the flames except a large cooking stove Before the flames were discovered they had completely enveloped the building, and that fact together with the great difficulty experienced in getting water, prevented even a portion of the house from being saved. By great exertion other houses standing on the same block were prevented from sharing a common fate. The total loss will not fall short of $5,000. Insured in the State Investment and Insurance Fund for $3,500, as follows $2,000 on the building, $1,000 on the furniture and $500 on the wardrobe.

CASTING A CYLINDER.—A long account was published in THE OREGONIAN a few weeks ago of the casting of a large cylinder at the Willamette Iron Works to be used on the steamboat the Wide West that is being built at the Cascades. One of the cylinders was cracked while on the way from Wilmington, Del, and was useless. The new one cast was to take the place of the broken one. In every respect the casting was a perfect one. There was a very slight defect, but the Willamette Iron Works Co. resolved to cast another and see if better success would attend the second effort Every preparation has been made, and to-day the casting will be made.

INSPECTING TOUR.—Col. J. M. Wilson, accompanied by Captain Merriman, inspector of the light-house district, started for the Sound last Saturday morning for the purpose of examining Point Wilson at the entrance to the Sound, and to select a site for a light and a fog signal, for which an appropriation has been made. After selecting a location Col. Wilson and Capt Merriman will immediately forward a report to the department. These gentlemen returned to the city last evening. This morning they will go down the river to Tillamook Head to select a site for a first class light station which is to be erected there.

INDIAN RUMOR, PROBABLY.—A report was in circulation yesterday and last evening on the streets to the effect that Mr Wm. Bigham, the well known horse man, had been killed by Indians, and that his stock had been driven off. Mr. Bigham owns a splendid ranch on the John Day. Diligent inquiry as to the truth of such rumors fails to elicit anything definite or satisfactory. A gentleman who came from The Dalles yesterday states that he heard nothing of the report. Possibly there may be some truth in the rumor, but there exists good reason to doubt its authenticity

IN A PRECARIOUS CONDITION.—Mr. Henry [illegible], the young man who was stabbed last week by Dan Smith while the train was coming from New Era to Oregon City is reported to be in a very dangerous condition. He was stabbed with a small dirk in the region of the stomach, the point of which penetrated the inner coating The wound is very much inflamed, and the result of the case is difficult to determine A very close examination of the wound will be made to-day by the attending physician

BURGLARIZED.—Some time during Sunday night the residence of Mr Fliedner on Stark street, near North Ninth, was entered by burglars Mr. Fliedner's family were away from home at the time and the burglars had full swing Monday morning, when the neighbors observed a window pane broken and on looking in discovered everything in a state of confusion The burglars had ransacked the premises to their hearts' content, but so far as is known nothing of value was carried off RAISED.—The steamer A A. McCully a short time ago ran a foul of a snag a short distance above Salem and sunk After considerable labor, she was floated and brought to the dry dock at Oregon City where she remained, [illegible] over the break and was brought to this city. Yesterday work was engaged in removing the wheel and repairs which will be completed in a few days, when the craft will be ready to resume her place on the Upper Willamette.

ARRIVED.—The steamship Oregon crossed in yesterday at 4.15 P. M., and arrived up at [illegible] o'clock The line went down early in the evening, and, consequently no information was received as to when the steamer sailed from Astoria for Portland. A FALSE CHARGE.

A certain evening paper makes a reckless statement about the facts in a case pending before Justice Bybee wherein one J S Morgan prosecutes Capt E R Merriman The facts are as follows Morgan charges Merriman with obtaining a sale of a desk to him on credit by using false pretenses It is not a charge of appropriating money of Morgan as an employer of Merriman There is no pretense that he was Morgan's agent. Morgan alleges that he sold a desk to Merriman on credit for $600 that he was induced to sell the desk on Merriman's representations that he (Merriman) had certain property which he did not have at the time that is, that he had certain specified advertising contracts which he did not have The evidence briefly, was that Morgan and Merriman made a contract whereby Merriman was to purchase for cash ($600) a certain advertising desk from Morgan which Morgan claimed he had a patent for To enable Merriman to purchase it for cash it was agreed that Merriman should procure for his own benefit advertising contracts with merchants and others in Portland for their cards to be placed in the desk and when Merriman had obtained enough to purchase the desk he was to pay cash for it and Morgan would have the signs painted and ship the whole to Merriman Merriman proceeded to canvass for contracts but found it slow work in the absence of the desk Among other contracts he procured one from the OREGONIAN for $30 to be taken out in advertising one from Woodard & Co for $40 one from the Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Co for $425 in gold to be deducted however from a bill he owed that company for work Before he procured the latter however he wrote Morgan that he thought he could fill the desk faster if he had it here in the hotel and that if he was afraid to trust him for pay he would deposit as security all the contracts he obtained with Wells Fargo or else Morgan might keep the signs and ship them by express one half C O D

Morgan at first declined to ship the desk till all the contracts should be obtained and the signs painted and then he would deliver the whole thing complete on payment of the $600 The whole of the ads would be worth from $1 000 to $1 200 Immediately after Morgan had mailed his letter declining he changed his mind and concluded to ship the desk to Merriman on credit without any conditions and without accepting either of his propositions At that time Merriman had only reported seven ads amounting to about $300 including OREGONIAN ad Before the steamer started with the desk on it Morgan received Merriman's letter enclosing the card of the O F M Co In that letter he stated he was sticking as close as he could to list prices that is the prices that Morgan usually charged in California Morgan swore that the list price for the space sold to the O F M Co was $60 but a statement proved by him to be in his own hand writing showed it was only $50 and that it was customary to make small deductions from that in procuring a contract. Morgan's letter was produced showing that he highly approved of Merriman's having got the OREGONIAN to make favorable mention of the desk and that he must have known that no money was to be paid on the OREGONIAN card except by advertising In deed there was no representation that it was to be paid in money In the case of Woodard's contract it was proved that the contract was made as stated and the money actually paid on it The other contracts, all but eight of which were obtained after the desk was shipped, were all in due shape—seventeen of them—amounting to over $700 The remaining spaces in the desk have not yet been filled because Morgan interfered. If he had not interfered the whole thing would have been filled and Morgan been paid his money or so much as was due him on the sale of the desk He interfered because he found that Merriman had ascertained his patent was not a valid one and was having advertising desks made here at much cheaper prices, and had secured contracts for desks on the O S N Co's steamers. This is all there is in the "false pretenses" The prosecution was instituted to force Merriman to abandon the advertising desk business and leave it all to Morgan If Morgan had a valid patent it would seem that he should sue Merriman the O F M Co and O S N Co for its violation instead of resorting to this sort of business to drive Merriman out of the field, and instead of trying to persuade those parties to compromise as we learn he is trying to do Capt. Merriman informs us that he is prepared to test the validity of the patent Merriman claims that the design is neither new nor an invention and that it is therefore void that the design was in use long before Morgan obtained his design patent and it is well known that at least half of the patents issued are held void by the courts. We can't see in this case any false pretenses whereby Morgan was induced to sell the desk on credit but it does seem that there is a good deal of persecution of one of our citizens for a sinister purpose of driving him out of the advertising business

BEAUTY:

OR, THE

Secret of a Fair Face.

An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate, possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion. What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish. It can be done. It is done daily. Prof W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion. It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner. It removes all roughness, eruptions, redness, blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power. It drives away all evidence of fatigue and excitement. It makes the plainest face beautiful. It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck face and arms appear graceful rotund and plump. It makes a matron of 40 or 50 look not more than 20 years of age, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty, and, while it was harmless as water, it is so life-like in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use. Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make no absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

There is a reason for everything. The reason why

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient

Has such a salutary effect upon disorders attended with inflammatory or feverish symptoms, is, that it induces a gentle, almost imperceptible perspiration which reduces the heat of the blood that its laxative influence further tends to cool.

A WATERING PLACE AFFAIR

At Mt Desert one day last summer
The cat boat Fleur de lis
Was sailing like a perfect hummer
Close reefed though running free
When one of Philadelphia's daughters
The youngest of the Shumway [illegible]
Said she would like to see
If she could jib and quick as thought
She jibed and snapped the mast off short
O dear she cried stuck a laback

A Boy's Pockets and a Girl's Pocket

[From the Norristown Herald]

Tommy is twelve years old. His sister Mary is sweet sixteen and a half. The other morning Mary accosted her mother with "Ma, see what a lot of stuff I found in Tommy's pockets." And she deposited on the table the following articles, to wit: Eight marbles one top, a broken-bladed knife a leather strap, a buckle, bunch of keys a fishing line piece of lead, a smooth stone four pieces of slate pencil a wornout pocketbook an oystershell, a wounded jewsharp, a piece of blue glass, a rubber ball, lump of chalk two dried fishworms a slingshot piece of Indiarubber two corks, a fractured comb piece of licorice root, a song book, two medals and a juvenile land tortoise. Tommy looked thoughtfully as the contents of his pockets were deposited before the eyes of his mother and sullenly remarked that it was none of Sis' business and he just wanted her to let his trousers alone.

Next day Tommy captured the outside pocket of his sister's dress and carrying the contents to his mother sarcastically observed in the presence of Mary "Ma just see what a lot of trash I found in Sis' pocket" and he produced from his hat the following knick knacks viz: Three hairpins a soiled glove piece of chewing gum, three cards a broken locket, elastic garter, piece of ribbon two slate-pencils, another piece of chewing gum photograph, piece of orange skin a love letter, broken tooth brush, more chewing gum spool of silk thimble a piece of cotton saturated with white powder one nickel two sour balls gaiter heel ivory ornament belonging to a parasol handle handkerchief perfumed with jockey club, gaiter buttoner withered geranium leaves, ivory handle pen knife with broken blade, a fan five visiting cards, belt buckle, box of rouge another piece of chewing gum fragment of looking glass, a peach stone, cigar holder stolen from "Charley," a piece of damasse silk of the pattern of her friend Lucy's silk dress an artificial flower, horse hair ring, a long brown hair entangled in a bunk of taffy, and a slip of paper containing directions for handkerchief flirtations.

Tommy placed the last article on the table and slid from the room with a grin of triumph on his roguish face. His sister made an ineffectual grab for him, and as he passed into the street he heard her voice calling "You nasty little brat, if you get at my pocket again I'll slap your face." Tommy thinks honors are easy.

His Wonderful Success
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
Chronic and Difficult Diseases,
He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR BRENAN

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door.
